3rd Arrest of James Bell

Thurs 5/2 roughly 10:30pm -

Hard, once again, pounding on front Door. Opened door to see a line of Sheriff's standing in a single file column. I asked "What now?" After a brief pause, the line of Sheriff's started to move towards me as I heard, Registered Again, and the dark haired Train Engine commanded me to sit down as I backed up and was basically walked to the back of my hall where I sat on a black ottoman by the bathroom door. The ~~train~~ dark haired Sheriff barked to put out my cigarette which was, freshly lit, and responded with "I don't have an istry." Another voice barked from dark hair was "give me the cigarette" which was handed over. There was ordered to hand over my phone which was in my right hand and screen on. I replied with "Let me turn it off," which ~~was replied~~ and my arm moved back as dark hair's arm reached for my phone as was a mouth said that was disappointing of my request to turn off the screen. Was then stood up and escorted outside where I was then patted down, asked if my dog was ok with food & water as I would only be here a few hours due to the warrant only being an arrest warrant. I then said she was fine and informed them that the back door had not been fully repaired from the last arrest and was easily pushed open from the outside and if they could push the kitchen Island up against the door for some security. I could not remember the code to open the front door and my fob was not working to open it either. I told them to go to the back, push door open, secure from inside and come out the front door. I'm gussy that's what happens as I was put in the van and off to the AGI wing.
