

Hello Lea,

Sorry that I never returned your call from June 28, 2022 @ 11:10 am. 🤖

I didn't realize that it was that long ago. Everything has been hectic the last few years and it was just always inconvenient for me to call you back every time I thought about calling you back, i.e. it would be like 4am, or I would be in a car with others, or just people around that didn't need to know my business. Plus, I'm easily distracted and get sidetracked then remembered at 2am.

Actually, I've just been scared to call you back I guess. Not knowing what you would tell me.

Could you please schedule me a day and time to call you so that I definitely will call. I am much more focused with a schedule rather than at-will. Plus, with it being so long ago, the initial call back request, it'll give you time to remember/refresh what you wanted to tell me.

So, please, let me know the day and time to give you a call. I am available after 9:00 AM all next week. Again, my apologies for not returning your last call.

Thank you. Much appreciated.

-Jim.
